Glancing Over World Events

Radio and Politics

Political parties will spend a lot of money in broadcasts, and already a suspicion exists that it is not worth the price. After one of Mr. King's broadcasts, the Kitchener Record, a friendly newspaper of which Hon. W. D. Euler is publisher, called up, at random 188 telephone numbers and found that only ten of the persons called had tuned in to hear Mr. King. No similar test was made, so far as we are aware, following Mr. Bennett's broadcasts, so no comparison can be made, but if the response was no better, radio cannot be counted upon to take the place of public meetings and newspaper space.

Young people take but little interest in politics. Whatever may be said of the new parties, this can be said of the old ones, Liberal and Conservative, party conventions or other party gatherings show plenty of grey or bald heads, but very few under the age of forty attend such meetings. If they listen in to the radio, it is for musical programmes or sports broadcasts.

How then to gain the attention of young male and female voters is a matter of some concern to the politician. If they will not listen to radio talks, they are not likely to read campaign literature or attend meetings.

The European Policeman

The way of the peacemaker is hard. Great Britain is losing caste with her former allies in her efforts to keep them in the paths of peace. Other nations applaud her efforts but offer little assistance. A cable says that the government has dropped the hint that if her efforts are not seconded with more enthusiasm, Britain herself may be the next to drop out of the League. Russia is the only country throwing its full weight behind Britain. France wishes to stand in well with Italy while maintaining its status in the League and its co-operation with Britain. World opinion places blame upon Italy as the aggressor against Ethiopia and that opinion has a moral weight even though not backed up by armament. History furnishes many instances which show that the aggressor with every advantage at the outset is in the end vanquished. A man with a spear or a pike has little chance against the man with a gun, but in his native fastnesses the defender has advantages which the invader is apt to miscalculate. Frost and fire saved Russia once from Napoleon's grand army.

It is customary to regard the depression as having started in 1929, but agriculture felt it two or three years before. The artificial stock

Marble Coffee Shop Open for Business

New Eating House Opens in Vulcan With Classy Appointments; C. R. Robson, Manager

Today the Marble Coffee Shop opened for business in Vulcan under management of C. R. Robson. This is a new business establishment with classy appointments for the eating public of the town and district. The business is situated in the Naismith block, two doors east of the post office. Complete renovation of the building has been made. The interior has been relined with V-joint lumber and a kitchen built at the back. The floor has been re-covered. All the interior has been painted in white with gray trimming color. Front changes have been made with the adding of plate glass windows and fixing of front entrance. A large orange and black floodlighted sign on front gives the name of the eating place.

Inside new and classy appointments have been made. A marble-topped lunch counter with cushioned chairs gives the coffee shop its name. To the side, lunch booths have been placed. These are colored in cream and black. Marble topped tables make these booths live up to the name of the establishment—the Marble Coffee Shop.

Facilities for cooking of all kinds of victuals are of the best. Modern apparatus has been placed behind the counter and in the kitchen for this purpose.

Mr. Robson has engaged John Mitchell of Calgary, as chef for the business. Mr. Mitchell comes to Vulcan highly recommended and has had many years experience in the coffee counter-trade.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of a public meeting in Vulcan on Wednesday, October 9th commencing at 8 p.m., by G. G. Coote M.P., and U.F.A. candidate in the Macleod riding.

Regular baby clinic under auspices of the Foothill Health Unit at the United church hall on Monday, October 7th, from 1.30 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Mothers are asked to keep the date and time in mind.

G. G. Coote, M.P. for the Macleod Federal constituency and candidate carrying the U.F.A. banner in the present election campaign will speak over the air from radio station CFCN Calgary, on Monday, October 7th from 8.30 to 9.45 p.m.

A successful chicken supper was held in the Anglican church hall on Saturday last under auspices of the Ladies' Guild. Patronage was good and all were pleased with the delicious menu served by the ladies. The ladies of the Guild wish to thank all who patronized the affair.

Mrs. R. E. Jones of Vulcan and Mrs. W. E. Myers of Reid Hill were joint hostesses at a bridal shower held in honor of Miss Dorothy Beckner, Milo, bride-elect this month, at the home of the latter on Friday afternoon, September 27th. About thirty guests were present. Miss Beckner received many lovely and useful gifts from her friends with the best of wishes.

Last evening the Young Peoples Society of the United Church held a re-organization meeting in the church hall. Members of the group outlined an active program for the fall and winter season. Officers were elected for the year and committees selected for the various branches of the young peoples work. A full report of the meeting will be given in next week's issue.

During the past week a number of repairs have been made to the canteen room of the local Canadian Legion club that add both to the convenience of the members and the serving staff. Large double doors have been placed on the serving room and a rearrangement of the counter made. Half the counter has been placed back in the room and the large door placed in the former position of the counter. This door folds back during serving hours and saves many footsteps for the staff, as well as giving quicker service to members.

Prime Minister Grinds the Camera

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett takes a turn at grinding the motion picture sound camera following the posing of the recently appointed cabinet ministers for a newsreel talking picture. He displayed keen interest in the mechanism. Cameraman Roy Tash demonstrates. Note Mr. Bennett's hat in the circle formed by the tripod. In other words—his hat is in the ring.

Rev. Peter Dawson, Champion, Heads District Presbytery

The High River Presbytery of the United church was held at Blackie Wednesday of last week. Rev. Peter Dawson, member-elect of the legislature, and minister at Champion, was elected chairman for the coming year succeeding G. E. Mack of High River. Rev. C. S. Pinder of Nanton was re-elected secretary and Rev. A. H. Rowe of High River, continues as secretary.

There are five new members of Presbytery who were introduced by various members: Rev. H. G. Smith of Carmangay, Rev. A. D. Pringle of Brant, Rev. H. Peters of Granum, Rev. J. E. Kirk of Cayley, and Rev. J. R. Brown of Turner Valley.

The Rev. R. W. Hibbert on behalf of the Religious Education Department outlined an attractive programme for the Young Peoples' Societies and the Revs. Pocock and Layton described the serious position of the missionary work of the church. Renunciation of war was again urged as well as a continued interest in social reform by the Social Service committee and a strong appeal made to the Church for support in this regard.

The religious needs at Black Diamond were sympathetically considered and the Presbytery appointed a committee to take up the matter of a church building.

William J. Bell of the Brant United Church was recommended as a candidate for the ministry and the need of a wider circulation of United Church periodicals was urged as well as a more serious interest in the position of our church in the foreign field. Before the meeting closed the retiring chairman, Mr. George Mack was heartily thanked for his leadership during the past year as was also the re-elected treasurer, Rev. A. H. Rowe and the re-elected secretary, Rev. C. S. Pinder.

Threshing is completed in the immediate Vulcan district. To the north and west several threshing rigs are still in operation. During the fall season the weather has been ideal for harvest work and the complete routine from cutting to threshing went practically unhampered by adverse elements. The weather still continues pleasant with warm days and cool evenings. The frost was heavy on Friday last.

Vulcan Elks' Lodge Plan Dances for Fall and Winter

Season's Opening Dance Under Local Lodge Auspices This Friday; Plan Carnival Dance and Halloween Masquerade

At the last business session of Vulcan Lodge, No. 121, B.P.O. Elks plans were made for three dances under lodge auspices to be held during the fall and winter season. This will be cheering news for the dance going public of Vulcan and territory, for the entertainment offered by the Vulcan Elks is of the best. This is the rule and the dances planned should be no exceptions.

The season's opening dance under Elks' auspices is billed for this Friday evening. The feature on that evening will be a bank night draw, introduced to the theatre going public here some time ago, and very popular. The prize on this occasion will be $10.00 a sum not to be passed up, if one feels lucky. Dancing will commence at 9.30 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' hall. Music will be provided by the popular Len Davis' band.

Halloween Masquerade

Another dance to be held this month will be the annual Halloween masquerade. This dance is slated for Thursday, October 31st. Arrangements are now being made to make this affair one of the best ever held by the lodge. Gaiety and fun usually feature occasions such as this. The sponsors ask that all start planning for this dance now. They want all who attend to be in costume—so ample warning is being given to prepare one, for no one will be admitted on the floor until midnight without joining in the fun of the show by costuming in either ridiculous or sublime garments—take your choice. Excellent prizes will be given for comic, fancy dress, original and home made costumes, both ladies and gentlemen.

Annual Carnival Dance

One of the most successful affairs ever sponsored by the Elks' lodge, was the carnival dance held last season. In planning for their annual carnival dance on Friday, November 30th, for this season, the Elks hope to duplicate last year's success. As previous, this affair will be held in aid of the Elks' hockey club. The feature of this dance will be the drawing for a different kind of a prize. This prize is a first class railway ticket to Victoria, B.C. and return, including berth expenses, or the equivalent in cash. All purchasing admission tickets to the dance will participate in the draw. Tickets will be placed on sale for this carnival dance early next week. A prize has also been offered the person who sells the largest number of tickets. Novelties, noise makers, confetti and carnival games will make for a pleasant evening's entertainment at this dance.

All dances are being held in the Odd Fellows' hall. Usual low admission prices will prevail for all three.

KIRKCALDY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE SEPTEMBER MEETING

On Thursday, September 26th, the members of the Kirkcaldy Women's Institute gathered at the home of Mrs. A. J. Maisey for their regular monthly meeting. Owing to the absence of the president of the group, Mrs. Boose, had charge of the proceedings of the meeting. The meeting was opened with the usual exercises. Most of the business session was taken up with the discussion of ways and means of raising money for organization work. Nothing definitely was decided on this subject. Flannellette was distributed for the making of a baby layette, to be sent to the provincial president for distribution as soon as possible. At the close of the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Maisey on Thursday, October 24th. New members and visitors are invited.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES SUNDAY, OCTOBER 6th

Public worship will be conducted at the Vulcan United Church next Sunday, October 6th, at the regular hours. Morning worship at 11 o'clock subject, "The Pioneer." Sunday school at 12:15; subject of study: "Isaiah portrays the suffering servant," Isaiah 53:1-2. Evening worship at 7:30 o'clock; subject "The Power of the Age to Come." There will be special music at both services. Rev. P. G. McPherson, pastor.

Ladies' Aid United Church Sponsor Social Evening

On Friday the ladies' Aid of the Vulcan United church sponsored a social evening in the auditorium of the church, at which a good number of the congregation and others attended. Group number two of the Ladies' Aid was responsible for the program of the evening, with Mesdames Allan Campbell and Dawson directing. The programme was unique in character and was very entertaining. The children participated largely in the program and their parts were well done. Miss Helen Simington sang a delightful solo selection and Mrs. Williams delivered one of her imitable readings. The audience was much amused by a presentation of the Quintuplets by five gentlemen and a recitation in habitant dialect by Mrs. D. Jantzie.

Following the program, lunch was served by groups number one and three of the Ladies' Aid.

Two lucky persons were present at the Vulcan theatre picture program on Tuesday evening for the Elks' Kiddies' Fund donation draw. Forty-five dollars was offered in prizes of $20, $15 and $10. The two largest sums were given. A. L. Lawson of Lethbridge, who just had registered to participate in the draw on the evening of the show, was the winner of the $20.00. Norman "Lucky" Lockhart was the winner of the $15 donation. If Miss Gertrude Roebuck had been present in or outside the theatre she would have been the winner of the $10 donation. This is the second time her name has been called to receive donations in this regular Tuesday night feature at the theatre. Both times she has been absent. The $10 will be carried over until next Tuesday evening and at that time will be added to the prize then to make a total of 20.00. This will be the smallest sum offered in connection with the draw for many weeks. Apparently the patrons to the flicker house are getting lucky.

THE WAR LORD'S PRAYER

Mark Twain, more than thirty years ago, wrote a "War Prayer," which he suggested might be published after his death. The Bethbridge Herald reprints it, commenting that there probably never was written a more ironically bitter expose of war's stupidity. If the words are shocking, they nevertheless express the real sentiment.
Here it is:

"O Lord our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the wounded, writhing in pain; help us to lay waste their unoffending widows with unavailing grief; help us to turn them out roofless, with their little children to wander unfriended, through wastes of their desolated land in rags and hunger and thirst, sport of the sun flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travail, imploping Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it—for our sakes, who adore Thee, Lord, blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with their tears, stain the white snow with the blood of their wounded feet! We ask of One who is the spirit of love and who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore beset, and seek His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Grant our prayer, O Lord, and Thine shall be the praise and honor and glory, now and ever. Amen."

SPEAKING IN TIME

The Medicine Hat branch of the Canadian Legion has taken time by the forelock, by passing a resolution that in the event of war in which Canada should be involved, wealth as well as manpower should be conscripted. No doubt there are many similar resolutions, somewhere in the books of many organizations. But the veterans of Medicine Hat are considering present eventualities, and possibly reaffirming their stand.

When war was less imminent than it is at the moment, there were quite a number of public men in Canada, declaring that the youth of this country should never again be required to fight upon foreign soil. One hears less of this declaration at the moment, though that is no proof that these public men have changed their minds. Any war in which any nation becomes involved is always a noble war, and reasons for the beating of drums can always be supplied.

At present, it appears to be Canada's lot to support the British effort to enforce League covenants. This may go farther than economic measures and may lead to the declaration of war. Canada may find herself strangely allied before many months are over.

In the light of the Medicine Hat resolution, Canadian people are anxious to know the attitude of the Canadian Government—whatever party may be in control—to the part of the Dominion in a war. They want no vague generalities but a specific policy.

Are Canadian youths to be conscripted at the outbreak of war—these Canadian youths who for years have been denied all normal living and means of livelihood? If so, are factories and factory workers to be conscripted for national service on the same basis as the soldiers? Is the most dangerous type of work to be rewarded on the basis of risk, or is the soldier to give his service for $1.10 a day, while profiteers and lucky civilians gather in the wealth. Is he going to be faced again with discouragement and unemployment if he returns from the wars?

Or will the enlistment of soldiers be a "voluntary" matter, high pressured by silver-tongued oratory. Will the career of a soldier be made so financially alluring that it will prove worth the risk? And will the reward of all civil labor be cut to a minimum to pay the army.

The government cannot afford to conscript men's lives, without conscripting with equal ruthlessness every other element that goes to make up the substance of a country.

And if there should be war where is the money to come from?

USING THE FRANCHISE

In the election of 1930 there were more than 1,200,000 Canadian voters who did not trouble to cast their votes.
In the Macleod constituency alone in 1930, there were 18,845 names on the voters' list, and a total of 13,093 persons went to the polls. There were 5752 individuals—almost one third of our voting population who had not sufficient interest in the affairs of Canada to record a vote. In the 1935 election, the Macleod constituency has been extended to include 22,000 voters. It is to be hoped that a larger proportion of these exercise their franchise on October 14, than in the election of 1930.

The representatives of the present government and the opposing parties have been presenting their policies and views during the last few weeks, and will continue to do so, by public speaking and by the radio, until the date of election. These policies in some instances show wide divergence, and if implemented by action in parliament will have a great deal to do with the development of Canada in the next few years.

This being a democratic country in which the will of the people is said to prevail, it is surely the duty of every citizen to inform himself on the principles for which each party stands. He will have opportunity of meeting or hearing the Macleod representatives of the various parties, and of judging these men. Having decided on which party to support, it is his duty to register his opinion by ballot. A two-third vote of the citizens is not a sufficiently representative vote.

If one third of the eligible citizens of this riding were disfranchised what a howl would be raised! The people would work themselves into quite a frenzy over the importance and sacredness and what not of citizenship. Their "rights" would suddenly become something to be highly prized and jealously guarded.

It is often argued, and with good reason, that the Canadian franchise is too easily come by. Amongst the best reasons for disfranchisement would be the failure to exercise the privilege of the ballot.

SHELTER BELTS

In certain areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta, field shelter belts have been attempted on a comprehensive scale. Organizations of farmers have united to plant miles of country in this way, and though the work is of too recent date to furnish final proof of benefit, the reports received are good.

Instances of individual farmers who have developed shelter belts round their fields, have shown that the presence of such field shelters has saved crops from failure.
In addition, yearly observation has shown that the crop yields within the shelter belts have increased from 50 to 100 per cent.

Before such a program is developed on a large scale, the factors of cost, maintenance and general conditions would be factors to consider, as well as the increased yields and prevention of soil drifting.

In the area near Conquest, Saskatchewan, one farmer, several years ago, planted miles of shelter belts round his farm. Since these have grown large enough to be of benefit, their influence on the crops has been markedly beneficial. This is definitely so in case of soil drifting. As a result of this example in the district, a number of farmers have organized for a planting program, and it is expected that by next spring there will sixty-eight miles or more of shelter planting.

The Dominion Dept. of Agriculture, operating through the Indian Head nursery is advising organizations of farmers, to unite in a planting program of this nature, if conditions are favorable. It is readily realized that such a program loses much of its effectiveness if limited to individual action, and would gain greatly in general benefit of several farms combined for a uniform planting program.

Where the farmers are willing to form their own organization for this purpose, the Department is willing to assist them financially.

1. By supplying the necessary material for planting laid down free of charge at the nearest express office.
2. $3.50 per thousand will be paid for planting the seedlings.
3. $20.00 per mile for each season would be allowed for cultivation and general maintenance for each mile of hedge planted.

THE GRAIN TRADE

"Premier Bennett's announcement by radio on Sept. 6 that a minimum price to be paid to farmers of Western Canada for wheat of the 1935 crop had been fixed by the federal government on a basis of 87½ bushel for No. 1 Northern, in store Fort William, was received without much surprise in the trade. Rumor had been busy for a week or more and guesses running from 75c to 90c were current. Market behavior on Thursday and Friday suggested that this news was about to break. It could hardly be kept secret longer.

"Now that the die is cast, it is interesting to speculate as to what the effect will be. It would be safe to say there is a good deal of surprise that the government's bid for the western wheat crop should have been put higher than the current market level. Naturally, the farmers, concerned are pleased, and no one will grudge them their good fortune, although there is regret that so many lost their crops on the eve of this stroke of luck. Grain men and millers are not particularly concerned so far as their own operations are concerned. Most of them probably feel privately that Canada will be lucky if she succeeds in turning over her 1935 wheat at that level. If market set is not reached, the general taxpayer will absorb the loss. Farmers growing things other than wheat will be envious, especially if their line is potatoes, which for many in the eastern provinces is the cash crop, just as wheat is in the West.

"Whatever the varying reactions to this news, it is gratifying to have the question settled. Uncertainty was having a bad effect on the sale of wheat. British and foreign buyers have no more than a mild interest in the amount of this fixed price. It is fixed only in so far as government receipts of wheat from farmers are concerned.
It has no necessary relation to the open market private trading price for wheat at Winnipeg. It has no other meaning than that the grower will get that much for his wheat regardless. What the board will be able to get for grain taken from farmers at this price is another matter. If it goes to a level higher than this minimum, private buyers will get the grain, if lower, growers will deliver to the board. In any case, the board must dispose of its wheat through regular marketing channels at regular market prices.—Wheat Pool.

ABYSSINIA

Abyssinia has an area of 350,000 square miles and has more potentialities than present assets. It is well above sea level, and the interior is completely primitive, with most of the inhabitants in extreme poverty and many still in slavery. It was the Ethiopian slave raids which threatened international peace in the early part of this century, and gave Abyssinia a bad reputation.

The most important centre is Addis Ababa with population of about 65,000. Without roads or bridges, it is a wilderness of wild beasts, lofty peaks, and great ravines.
Forests abound in valuable trees, including rubber; while placer gold, iron, coal, copper, sulphur and platinum has been found. Italian capital is developing potash beds and Belgian companies have coffee plantations. The State Bank of Ethiopia does business in shillings, but most national trade is by means of barter. Disturbed political conditions, lack of communications, and suspicion of foreign enterprise have held back progress.

Emperor Haile Selassie is said to be progressive, with enthusiasm for all modern developments. His advisers appear to be white people of no ulterior motives. Belgian and Swedish officers are said to have drilled his army.
Norwegian doctors and nurses have staffed his modernized hospitals. A Swiss jurist advises the slave courts.
American engineers construct roads, bridges and the new barrage works at Lake Tana. The prospecting geologists are German or Anglo Egyptians.

A diplomatic move on the part of the Emperor was to dispatch his nephew to Tokyo on a mission which brought to Japan a special concession of 2,000,000 acres for cotton growing. Trade figures disclose that Japan has a rapidly growing stake in Abyssinia, achieving by peaceful penetration what other nations had failed to do in centuries by armed force.—Financial Post.

X MARKS THE SPOT

When you vote for your favorite candidate on October 14, be sure you use only the black pencil provided in the polling booths, otherwise you may unwittingly lose your vote. The Election Act says that a cross, and nothing else, must be made with a black pencil opposite the candidate's name. In the 1930 election, 3,992,481 people voted, and of those 24,119 lost their votes through improper markings on the ballots, or about one out of every 160 voters. In the approaching election, it is likely that more than 25,000 people will lose their votes through improperly marking the ballots, and the risk is much greater this year on account of the larger number of candidates. Markings in addition to the cross, use of a pen or colored pencil instead of the black pencil provided, and signing of the ballot by the voters are the most frequent causes of spoiled ballots. Through habit many men use their fountain pens, and deputy returning officers throw out their ballots.—Exchange.

EASTERN PAPER PRAISES U F A

"Taken man for man," stated Toronto Saturday Night recently, in an article which we quote in this issue, "the group in the House of Commons of which the U.F.A. members have formed the majority, 'are undoubtedly harder working, better trained, better informed and better equipped intellectually than any other group in the House. They represent a social philosophy which may be repugnant to a number of people, but if they represent what has hitherto been the unpopular side, they have represented it much more effectively for their numerical strength than either of the major parties represent their own tenets."

"The selection of candidates has been based entirely upon their ability to serve the interests of the struggling producers who elected them. And this they have done with a great deal of energy, no little ability, and with a commendable lack of petty sectionalism."

"The larger matters of national policy have been their special study. They have been the staunchest advocates of a coherent national policy and have served with distinction on all the important Parliamentary committees."

market did not respond until October 1929. Up to that time it acted as if it had no connection whatever with the livestock market or the grain market.

Several former candidates, Liberal and Conservative, decline to run again because their previous efforts were too expensive. Politics make strange bed-fellows.

An Italian diplomat scorns the compromise suggested by the five power committee of the League of Nations, saying it was like being offered $50,000 for a house which they expected would bring $10,000,000. It is a fair illustration of Italy's demand for expansion. The demand is made large enough to allow for contraction, but Italy's alone must be the decisive voice. Fifty thousand is a good price to get for a house that some one else owns.

The English language is a useful vehicle but some words have a confusing variety of meanings. For instance, "sanction" means to countenance, endorse, authorize, ratify. The "sanctions" spoken of in Geneva in connection with Italy's aggression, mean penalties or punitive measures. The League cannot sanction Italy's conduct, therefore it discusses sanctions. Mussolini on the other hand does not sanction sanctions. He says they mean war. The other member nations say that sanctions were sanctioned by the League, including Italy, as a means to prevent war; as weapons against aggression. The word has still another meaning—rewards. The League might discuss sanctions in this connection, if Il Duce behaves himself.
